EVERSOLE BLOCK NOW COMPLETED

J. W. Eversole has moved into his elegant new two story brick building across the street from his old furniture store, the last load of furniture having been transferred Wednesday. In company with hss clerks, Mr. Eversole is now endeavoring to evolve order from the chaos naturally following the moving of such a large stock.

Mr. Eversole moved to this city August 1, 1890, and located in the Eagle block, entering the furniture business with a capital of $2000. He moved into the Gillaspie building now occupied by Joseph's jewelry store one month later, where he remained six years. In 1893. T. A. Templeton entered into partnership with him and for seven years the firm was known as Eversole & Templeton. On January 1, 1900, failing health compelled Mr. Templeton to retire from the firm. Seeing that his quarters were getting two small for his business Mr. Eversole purchased the lot on which the new building stands in the fall of 1903.

The question then arose as to what style of a building was needed and Mr. Eversole visited San Francisco, Napa, St. Helena and other cities looking over furniture stores and selecting a feature here and one there for his new building. In July, 1904, the plans were completed by Architect A. J. Hill and the building commenced under his supervision.

The building throughout is the best that it is possible to build. The foundation is concrete. The front and south side are of pressed brick. The inside walls are all firred, thus preventing any possibility of the plaster absorbing moisture. The ceiling is supported by I steel beams. The roof is one of the latest improved and best patent roofings on the market. The rooms, both up and down stairs, are abundantly lighted with windows. Around the building extends a cement sidewalk.

Mr. Eversole, with his usual foresight, has arranged the lower store so that if he should ever wish to make it into two stores all that is necessary is to run a partition down the center and open up the false doors in the north side.

On approaching the store a person is attracted by the large plate glass show window, 7x25, which contains a striking display of handsome furniture and bricabrac. At the left of the entrance is a smaller window devoted to books and stationery. The entrance is so arranged as to give ample display room without encroaching on the sidewalk. The main sales room is 50x90 with a 16½ foot ceiling, and an eight-foot gallery extends around the entire room. To the right is found the wallpaper department. On the north side is the carpet, matting and drapery department, with racks especially constructed for the display of draperies.

At the left of the entrance is Mr. Eversole's office, and back of it the book department, which covers nearly one-half of the floor space. All the school books in use in the grammar and high schools and the latest fiction and other books, with a large assortment of stationery, are displayed. Besides the wall shelving a handsome glass counter is well filled. In the center of the room are displayed bedroom sets, chiffoniers, dressers and tables.

The balcony is devoted to fancy rockers, center tables, upholstered goods, bedding, crockery, bamboo goods and couches, every article being arranged so that it can be thoroughly examined.

The shop is 16x30 in the rear of the building, having an entrance on Smith street. It is very conveniently fitted for such work as is necessary in connection with a large furniture business.

The undertaking parlors are located in the rear of the lower floor, 20x35 feet in size, and are especially arranged for funerals when it is so desired. All styles of caskets, from the plain to the full length couch, are contained in a cabinet with seventeen compartments, occupying the north and west sides of the room. The morgue room is one of the best appointed north of San Francisco and it has a cement floor.

Besides the goods contained in this large store Mr. Eversole has a warehouse in the next block well stocked.

The upper floor is arranged with seven offices in front in suites of two and three rooms. One of these will be occupied by Architect Hill. The south side will be occupied by the Ukiah Business college, Mr. Mathews having living rooms opposite. The class room is 30x50, with office and typewriter rooms occupying 15x30. This floor is furnished with all modern conveniences such as lavatories and bath rooms. The second floor is reached from State street by a broad stairway with wide steps of easy ascent.

The building is certainly one of the finest north of the bay and Mr. Eversole deserves great credit for having invested the money which he has made here in such a handsome permanent improvement to the town. That his business methods are approved is evidenced by his sales which have grown from between four and five thousand dollars to over $20,000 a year for the past five years. Last year sales were well toward the $30,000 mark. The new store to which his growing business forced him represents an outlay of $15.000.

A YOUNG MAN KILLS HIMSELF

George Nobles, a wellknown young man of Point Arena, committed suicide Monday night by shooting himself in the head with a pistol. Death resulted instantly, as the ball passed through his head and cracked his skull on the other side. Nobles was alone at the time of the tragedy and left no message assigning a cause for the deed.

The young man had been drinking quite heavily lately, it is said, and it is presumed that the extended period of dissipation brought on despondency that caused him to decide to make way with himself. He had been stopping at the Tullener ranch, about one and one-half miles from Point Arena, and the deed was committed at that place. Nobles was about 25 years old and was born and raised at Point Arena, where his parents and brothers and sisters survive him.

Drowned Near Eureka.

The remains of Jack Ramus were brought to this city Monday from Eureka and taken to Mendocino for interment. The deceased had been on a fishing trip with three companions and when returning to Eureka in a row boat had accidentally capsized the boat. His three companions held to the boat until help arrived, one of them keeping hold of Ramus. When rescued from the water he was found to be dead. Ramus was a Mendocino boy and had been employed at the Occidental mill for about three years. He was about twenty-five years old and a member of the Native Sons, Eagles and Ancient Order of Foresters.

Married Last Wednesday.

Wiley Higgins, of Largo and Miss Lucile Beattie were quietly married at the Baptist parsonage Wednesday morning. The groom is the son of one of the wealthiest residents of the valley and an extensive hop grower The bride is the charming daughter of Tuck Beattie, one of Ukiah's oldest and most respected citizens. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins will, after a short honeynoon in the bay city, reside on his ranch at El Robles. A host of friends join in congratulating the happy couple. X.

STATE SENATORS VISIT HOSPITAL

Saturday afternoon a composite party of the senate visited the local state hospital. Two members of each of the committees on finance, education, public buildings, asylums and retrenchment were present. The senatorial party was met at the depot at 1:20 when they arrived on a special train, and conveyed to the hospital. After spending some time visiting the wards and various departments of the institution the guests were conducted to the dining room where an elegant dinner was served. At 5:45 the party started for Santa Rosa where they spent the night, visiting Glenn Ellen Sunday.

The party was as follows: Senator Nelson and wife, Senator Sanford and wife, Senator McKee and wife, Senator Leake and daughter, Senator Coggins and son, Mrs. Woodward and daughter, Senators Pendleton, Markey, Ward, Sergeant at Arms Martin and wife and Porter Andrew Lee. Senator Woodward was detained in Santa Rosa on business.

The senators were well pleased with the manner in which the affairs of the hospital were conducted and were loud in their praise of the management. They stated that all the appropriation bills for the institution had passed the senate. One of the bills that will particularly interest the residents of the valley is the one carrying an appropriation of $4500 for boring an artesian well on the grounds. Several senators were anxious to see bills passed carrying an appropriation to properly beautify the asylum grounds. This is a very important feature of the state institutions and the other state asylums have been more fortunate in the matter. It is assured that when such a bill comes up it will find warm supporters in both houses.

Climbed the Mountain.

Principal Flowers and nearly all of the pupils of the eighth grade celebrated Washington's birthday by climbing to the top of the high mountain southwest of town. Their trip was from twelve to fifteen miles in length and was hugely enjoyed by all. Curiously enough, the girls who persevered and reached the summit outnumbered the boys, although the latter had previously boasted that the result would be the other way.

Antone Maessi was shot and killed during a barroom row in Luchessi & Pogetti's saloon in Fort Bragg Saturday night. Serfrafino Necciari who had stopped in front of the place to light a cigarette, received a charge of shot in the shoulder and neck and was dangerously wounded. A shotgun and a pistol were found in the barroom by the officers but the murderer has not yet been apprehended.

Visits State Hospital.

Assemblyman Rolley, of Humboldt, visited the state hospital Sunday as a special committee to look after the proposed appropriation. It is understood that he was favorably impressed with the needs of the local institution.

Another Benedict.

Frank Guntley, of Philo, sprung a surprise on his friends this week by becoming a benedict. He was married to Miss Mattie Rose at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gibson last evening, Rev. Wilkison officiating.

POUND MASTER GOES TO WORK

Mine Host Sandelin lost his horse and buggy last Saturday. It occurred this way: He was out hunting hen fruit for his boarders and drove up to Fred Brunner's egg factory and hitched his horse to the fence. The pound master espying the animal gathered the whole rig in and took the nearest trail for the city pound. When Sandelin appeared with his basket of eggs he deposited them in the air where the buggy had stood and did not awake to the situation until the crash came. Some boys informed him that a man had driven the animal away.

Sandelin made a run for the headquarters of the chief of police to make a complaint against the offender, but after stating the case was informed that he would probably find the outfit at the pound billed C. O. D., $1 "Why," said Marshal DeMeritt, "that new pound master is the most energetic man you ever saw. My cow got her head over the fence this morning and was grazing in front of the house when she suddenly disappeared. I have heard that he got her." The marshal and the hotel man fell in line and started double quick for the pound. On breaking ranks and approaching the poundmaster's office in open order they saw both animals in the enclosure.

Expostulations were in vain and even the marshal could not convince the pound man that the proceeding was irregular, as there was no precedent for it. Seeing no alternative they each donated a large piece of the Bryan metal and marched away. Sandelin remarked afterwards that it was a horse on him, but Warren said never a word, contenting himself with figuring on how long it would be before he could gather in enough disturbers of the peace to make even.

These two citizens are not the only ones, however, who have felt the energetic hand of Poundmaster Parrish. As soon as he was appointed the poundmaster started out with a receipt book and a pocket full of tags to enforce the long dormant dog license. He presented himfelf at the chambers of City Attorney Ruddock and demanded a $2 fee on John's birddog, Jet. A happy idea struck John and he harangued him thus: "Save receipt number fifty for me. I am perfectly willing to pay but, heretofore the highest number of taxes ever collected was thirteen and I have always been one of the unlucky number." Taking his roll of greenbacks from his pocket he displayed two ones as a temptation to the collector. Parrish assured him that he should have number fifty and departed.

Ruddock was highly elated at evolving such a scheme and spent the afternoon spreading the good news among his friends as to how he had saved $2. His joy was shortlived, however, for early the next morning the pound man again appeared. Imagine the surprise when the collector opened his book and handed out number fifty. The stubs showed that he had collected over sixty. Ruddock is now claiming the glory for having enforced the ordinance, stating that the pound man could not resist the temptation of getting his bills as he knew it would be easy money.

So fierce has been the onslaught of the collector that a dog is becoming a rare article on the streets of Ukiah. The only man who wears a smile that won't come off is Dolly Edwards. He says that never before was there such profit on sausages.

Those who value their canines at less than $2 are shipping them to the country. It is said that he even made a swoop on the management of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and it was only on the promise of leaving the next morning that the bloodhounds escaped. May the good work proceed.

Judge Crockett and Nightwatchman Beattie are among the mourners and each is lighter in the pocket by a silver dollar as the result of their cows visiting their neighbors. The only town official to escape a dog tax or a fine is Recorder Critchfield. His immunity lies in the fact that he possesses nothing in the animal line but a pet cat and laws have not yet been made to reach felines.

Views on Game Law.

J. D. Dicken, a prominent stockraiser, was down from Tomki this week on a business visit. Mr. Dicken has had considerable experience with hunters and is heartily in favor of having a law passed enabling the supervisors to declare certain ranches as game preserves. In speaking of the matter Mr. Dicken states that during the last three years, during which time he has not permitted hunting on his range, the supply of deer has greatly increased. He states that such a law would deprive no one of his hunting privileges, as the deer would breed on the preserves, but during the open season would always run on the unoccupied government land adjoining. Deer have no difficulty in jumping the highest range fences and could therefore go in and out of the preserves at will.

Baseball News.

The baseball players are circulating a petition to raise money to help defray the expense of putting the grounds in condition and purchase paraphernalia. The boys expect to commence the national game as soon as the weather will permit. The players will manage their own team this year.

THE HIGH SCHOOL BOYS' FIELD DAY

The U. H. S. field day last Saturday afternoon at the school grounds drew a large crowd of spectators and the boys cleared about $30 on gate receipts. The events were all good, excellent showing being made. On the shot put Ford broke the school record, placing the sphere 46 feet, 4 inches. Dr. Thomas acted as starter. Wedding at the Court House.

While the other court house officials were enjoying Washington's birthday in various ways County Clerk McCowen had a quiet little wedding in his office. The happy couple was Richard A. McGill, of Mercury, Sonoma county, and Miss Armilla O. Hixon, of Pieta. In company with Rev. C. C. Thompson they appeared at the clerk's office, procured the necessary license and without further delay the reverend gentleman pronounced the words that made them man and wife. The ceremony was witnessed by J. M. Hixon, father of the bride, County Clerk McCowen and Cal Toney.

The groom is a mining foreman employed at the quicksilver mines near Guerneville, while the bride is the handsome and accomplished daughter of J. M. Hixon, the prominent Pieta stock raiser. The young couple came to Ukiah to evade their many friends and relatives.

VALLEJO BOYS VISIT UKIAH

Vallejo company, No. 49, U. R. K. P., the crack drill company of the state, visited this city Wednesday night as guests of Schaffner company, No. 29, and on the special invitation of Col. Marks. The boys arrived on the evening train and were escorted to the castle by the Fifth Regiment band and Schaffner company. At 9:30 the Vallejo company marched to the opera house and gave an exhibition sword drill as one number on the program of the band entertainment.

The drill was something never before seen in this city and was very pretty, the company being received with great applause after the execution of each of the difficult evolutions, and Captain Davidson was the recipient of many comments on the manner in which he handled his company. Unfortunately the size of the hall prevented the giving of the complete drill.

The grand march was led by Captain Davidson and Mrs. T. J. Weldon, who wore a colonial costume, supported by his company, Col. Marks and staff, Schaffner and Willits companies. At 12 oclock the visiting Knights were treated to a tamale supper at the Eagle retaurant by Schaffner company, where a number of appropriate toasts were responded to, Mrs. Schoff acting as toastmaster.

Thursday morning was spent by the visiting Pythians in driving over the valley in two four-in-hands. The state hospital was among the points of interest and through the courtesy of the management they were shown through that institution. The last place visited was the court house, where the splendid view of the valley was enjoyed. At 1:15 the Vallejo company formed at the Palace and marched to the depot, having nothing but kind words for the people of Ukiah and extending a hearty invitation to Schaffner company to visit Vallejo.

His Check Not Good.

The authorities are looking for J. R. Stevens on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Mr. Stevens visited Covelo in January and after making some purchases of Dave Rudee, tendered him a check in payment. The check was for $50 and drawn on the Bank of Ukiah. Mr. Rudee accepted the check and paid the balance in money and his suspicions were not aroused until the check was returned from the bank dishonored. It is said that Stevens represented himself as a wealthy sheep-man and was looking for range land in Round valley. He had spent some days in this city before going to Covelo. When last heard of Stevens was in San Francisco.

Former Resident Dead.

Thomas McGough, an old and respected resident of Boonville, died in San Francisco Saturday. The deceased was seventy-five years old and leaves a wife and several grown children.

Speechless and dazed, I turned to face him, but he only leaned quietly on a long rifle and pinched his chin and chuckled.

"There are some gentlemen yonder looking for you, young man," he said. "I sent them south, for somehow I thought you might not be looking for them."

Weakness had dulled my wits, but I found speech presently to ask for my knife and hatchet.

"Now! Now! Let us go slow, friend," he said. "Let us converse on several subjects before you begin bawling for your playthings. In the first place, your manners need polish. I said to you, 'Greeting, friend. God save our country!' and you make me no polite reply!"

Something in the big fellow's impudence and careless good humor struck me as familiar. I had heard that voice before and under pleasant circumstances, it seemed to me. Somewhere I had seen him standing, as he was standing now, in his stringy buckskins and his coonskin cap, with fluffy tail falling like a cue.

"If you please," I said weakly, "give me my hatchet and knife and receive my thanks. Come, my good fellow; you detain me, and I have far to travel."

"Now," he said, "you come into camp and take supper with me, or I'll knock your head off and drag you in by the heels!"

Aching with fatigue and mortification, I stood there so perfectly helpless that the great oaf fell a-laughing again and, with a shrug of good humored contempt, handed me back my rifle as though I were an infant.

"Don't grind your teeth at me," he chuckled. "Come to the camp, lad. I mean no harm to you. If I did, there's men yonder who'd slit your pipes for the pleasure, I warrant."

"I'm dog tired," I said weakly, making an effort to walk, but my knees had no strength in them, and I must have fallen except for his support.

"I know you," I said abruptly.

He glanced around at me.

"Oh, you do, eh? Well, I mean to know you, too, so don't worry, young man."

"I won't," said I, scarcely able to speak.

I was prepared to encounter the other coureur-de-bois, and there he was, ferret face peering and sniffing at us as we approached. However, beyond a grunt he paid me no attention and presently fell to stirring something in a camp pot which hung from cross sticks over a separate bed of coals.

There was a third figure there, seated at the base of a gigantic pine tree—

"There are some gentlemen yonder looking for you."

a little Hebrew man, gathering his knees in his arms and peeping up at me with watery, red rimmed eyes; Saul Shemuel!—though I was too weary to bother my head as to how he came there.

The big man brought me a bowl of broth and spread a blanket for me close to the blaze. I do not recollect drinking the broth, but I must have done so, for shortly a delicious warmth enveloped me within and without, and that is the last I remembered that night.

TRAGEDY ENDS HONEYMOON.

Oakland, Feb. 13.—Edward and Lena Kochn, bride and groom of six weeks engaged in a duel to the death in this city yesterday morning, and as a result the husband lies dead in the morgue and the wife is nearly crazed with grief and remorse.

From what could be learned from neighbors and relatives of the woman it is gathered that quarreling between the couple began immediately after the marriage had taken place and continued almost incessantly until the hour of the tragedy.

The quarrel came to a head last Friday night when the young wife left her home because of her husband's abuse of her. She went to sleep at the house of a neighbor, Mrs. Charles Krueger. Both Krueger and her father spent the best part of that evening in an effort to patch up matters between the pair, but to no avail.

Yesterday morning she went back to her husband. According to her statement her husband told her that she had no right there and to pack up and get or he would "fix her," at the same time brandishing a pistol. As she remained undecided because of her fright he pulled the trigger of his revolver. She immediately reached for another revolver that was under the bed and fired four shots at him. He fell with a bullet through his throat Only one bullet was fired by him and it did no damage.

After the shooting Mrs. Kochn gave herself up at the police station She is in a hysterical condition and is unable to give a lucid account of the tragedy at present.

WASTING AMMUNITION.

Tokio, Feb. 21.—The headquarters of the Japanese army in the field report that the Russians have moved a division from the front of the Japanese center to the front of the left and advanced from Tao mountain. Several columns moved fifteen miles westward and halted at Angchiataitzu, which is two miles northwest of Wanchiayuantzu.

The Russians continued to shell portions of the Japanese lines Saturday and the Japanese frequently failed to respond to the bombardment, which often was entirely ineffective, and is described as being largely a waste of ammunition.

The squadron, which consisted of four ironclads and four transports, proceeded northward and passed the northern part of Langeland, escorted by a Danish torpedo boat and a German ironclad. Good Health to the Children

As good cake can be made only with good eggs, so also a cake that is healthful as well as dainty must be raised with a pure and perfect baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable in the preparation of the highest quality of food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnuts, crusts, etc., and what is more important, renders the food wholesome and agreeable to young and old.

ERNEST LEEK, EDITOR.

Our items last week were somewhat stale, having been sent the previous week too late to find space in the paper, but here is a batch fresh from our pencil and cranium.

A new rule requires each pupil to provide himself with a waste paper sack to hang at his desk. Nearly every desk is supplied now, but some of the pupils will probably wait for a force act.

During the past week we have been having a series of talks every morning for the first fifteen minutes about Abraham Lincoln. We will begin a discussion of George Washington immediately after his birthday. These talks are very instructive for every pupil who takes an interest, and no American ought to be ignorant of the history and character of these noble patriots.

We have a drum and a drummer now. The pupils line up outside in four rows and try to keep step with the drum while marching into the building; but the drummer, Ray Andrews, sometimes plays a little fast or a little slow, which makes the step a little uncertain. We hope for a better drum some day as the music of this instrument sounds too much like the sweet tones produced by a tattoo on a mush bag.

There is a rumor abroad that the members of some of the classes may be put into lower grades for reciting so poorly. There are too many spectators in those classes.

Peg tops are very popular since playing marbles for keeps has been prohibited. Every boy is the owner of a top and they are kept busy at every intermission.

The old school building now serves a double purpose. On rainy days the children in the lower grades use it for a playroom and on special occasions it becomes a dance hall. Its initiary ball was a grand masquerade on Wednesday evening in honor of Birthington's washday.

Our nature study lesson last Friday was about the life history of ferns. The boys and girls collected a big supply of the plants, some of them being very nice specimens. This subject is very interesting. What do you know about ferns?

George Durnan heads the black list this week with three more tardy marks. Come, boys, get up and dust. Two more names were added to the list recently, Arthur Sullivan and Myrtle Armstrong with one tardy mark each.

Two new pupils have entered the lower room since our last notes were sent, making a total enrollment of 98 in both rooms.

Charley Hewitt, of the first grade, has gone with his parents to the city. Soon after their return from the city, we understand, they will start on a journey to New York. Mr. Hewitt is the agent for the C. & N. W. R'y Co. at Hopland.

Special Bargain.

Five hundred and sixty acres in Potter valley, 40 acres of the finest bottom land, balance range, well watered with living stream, house and barn and good small orchard, fenced and cross fenced, near town and right in line of new power company's ditch, some 30 head of cattle go with the place for $6100. This is a bargain and will only be in the market a short time at the present price.

POAGE & WOODWARD, Ukiah, Cal.

Went Over the Grade.

Edward J. Gross, a commercial traveler, went over the grade on the old road between Cloverdale and this city last week and had a narrow escape from death. Gross left Cloverdale on the old road and came to a large slide. He attempted to turn around but the horses backed over the grade taking Gross and the buggy along. The horse was badly hurt and the carriage demolished but the drummer escaped with a few bruises.

U. H. S. Notes.

The past week has been a busy one. Besides the studies we have had an entertainment by the sophomore class, an inter-class field day and a debate between the seniors and juniors.

It has become the custom during each term for each class to furnish a Friday afternoon program. This term it fell to the lot of the sophomores to lead off. We do not know whether they were chosen, as the president in his excellent address intimated, so that the other classes might have a worthy pattern; but if such were the purpose of our inscrutible principal he made a good choice. From the president's address to closing number the program was good, consisting of vocal and instrumental solos, recitations, readings, essays and poems.

Then Saturday afternoon came the field-day for which so many aspiring and perspiring athletes have been training. The seniors won it as every body but the juniors knew they would. These unfortunate juniors! First Woodward arrived at 2:02 instead of 2 and was not in the 100 yard dash, then Henley loafed along on the back stretch and R. Fallas slipped in and took the track and beat him to the tape, then Ruddock beat the same invincible Henley in the pole vault, then H. Fallas got the "grip"—well, if you want the whole tale told with pathos ask Doph Marks. Rawles broke the inter-class record with a jump of 20 ft. 4 in. and Ford set a new mark by pulling the shot 46 feet 4 in. The final score was: Seniors, 46; juniors, 29; freshmen, 26; sophomores, 25.

The question for debate was: Resolved, that a protective tariff as in force in the United States is better than a revenue tariff. H. Fallas, F. Clarke and T. Spaulding for the juniors, maintained the affirmative with the best oratory ever heard within the walls of the high school. G. B. Dillingham, H. McCowen, jr., and T. Jamison for the seniors maintained the negative with hard cold facts. The judges, Messrs. J. F. Barbee, C. M. Mannon and Mrs. J. W. Porterfield, after commending the affirmative for their preparation and eloquence, decided unanimously in favor of the negative. STUDENT.

A Card to the Public.

Read what H. A. Eldred has to say: "I have used Horsemen's Collar Gall and Hoof Ointment for a number of years and I still use it for dry, hard and brittle feet, collar galls and saddle sores. There is nothing better for barbed wire cuts. Everyone using horses should keep a can of Horseman's Collar Gall and Hoof Ointment."

Cultus Club Celebration.

The Cultus club, a literary society with a membership of twenty-five, was organized about eight years ago, by an active and progressive woman of Ukiah, and since that time has done much good work in the way of study and mental development. In the present year's course the principal study has been French history and in connection with it are other interesting topics, selected by a committee appointed to map out the whole year's work.

On Tuesday evening the ladies of this club and their invited guests met at Sanford's hall to celebrate Washington's birthday, with patriotic exercises and a social good time. The hall was elaborately decorated with the national colors of the U. S and France and the picture of Washington had the place of honor. The president of the club opened the evening's entertainment by singing the Star Spangled Banner and all joined in the chorus. After that came the Marsailles, the national song of France. A most interesting program of music and recitations, suitable to the occasion, was rendered and while the theme was old, the way of treating it was decidedly new and novel. The ladies were dressed in colonial style, wearing powdered hair and old fashioned jewels, and there were several rare and antique costumes displayed. The refreshments were very choice—the lunch was delicious, the coffee fragrant, the sandwiches of four kinds just as they should be and from each dish of ice cream waved a tiny American flag. The souvenirs were hatchets with hand painted cherries on them and were well worth preserving. Speech making was indulged in to a considerable extent, the ladies vieing with the gentlemen. After dancing the Virginia reel, the company dispersed, all expressing themselves well pleased with the evening's amusement.

JAYNE'S TONIC VERMIFUGE IS A HEALTH BRINGER.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Thedford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

PITTSBURG, KAS., March 25, 1904.
I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock food but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.

THE WESTERN PACIFIC.

Engineers Expect Soon to Come to a Decision as to Line of Road.

San Francisco, Feb. 20.—There is every reason to believe that the Western Pacific will soon begin construction work in California, as well as in Nevada. This much is known that there is a big corps of engineers now in Beckwith Pass, and their presence in the mountains means that they are coming to a definite decision as to the line of the road. The Western Pacific has had several parties of surveyors in the mountains for several months past, and it has been a difficult matter for them to decide which is the most feasible route into this state.

G. W. Dillmann, the engineer in charge, is at Beckwith Pass now, and word is expected almost any day as to the route that will be selected.

"There have as yet been no contracts let for construction work, but it is expected that the contract for construction work on the entire mountain division will be shortly let. In one of the Nevada papers there was a statement to the effect that some contracts have been let, but that was erroneous. When work commences there will be employment given to at least 40,000 men."

ASK FOR MORE TIME.

None of the Accused Senators Entered Pleas on Being Arraigned.

Sacramento, Feb. 20.—Wright, Emmons, French and Bunkers, the four senators accused of boodling, are going to avail themselves of every technicality and legal ruse that the wits of half a dozen attorneys can devise in order to avoid the necessity of having to fight the case against them on its merits. This was demonstrated when the quartet was arraigned in the superior court before Judge Hart and asked to plead to charges of asking and receiving bribes. Not one of them pleaded either guilty or not guilty.

On behalf of Wright and French the defending attorneys applied for and were granted until next Thursday to decide whether or not they will move to set aside the indictment.

A demurrer to the indictment was filed in the cases of Bunkers and Emmons.

PUT POISON IN MINERAL WATER

San Francisco, Feb. 20.—An attempt was recently made to murder Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, widow of Leland Stanford, one of the founders of the university that bears his name, by putting poison in a bottle of mineral water from which the lady drank.

Mrs. Stanford sailed for Japan on the Korea on Thursday in ill health. Previous to that day she cancelled two social engagements—a coming out party which she was to have given for Miss Jennie Lathrop on February 8 and a reception to the trustees of the university—for the same reason.

It is now reported that the poisoned mineral water of which she drank copiously was the cause of her illness.

Private detectives are working on the case, but as yet no arrests have been made.

Stockton Protests.

Stockton, Feb. 20.—The Stockton chamber of commerce has adopted resolutions against the passage of the railroad crossing bill now before the senate in its present form and recommended the adoption of certain amendments, so that the bill will be fair to all railroads. Senator Muenter is requested to oppose the bill, unless the amendments are adopted. The chamber urges amendments to exempt territory within cities and towns from the necessity of constructing overhead or underground crossings and allow grade crossings and to enable the question of method of crossings to be adjudicated by the superior court.

Woman Sailed in Air Ship.

Oakland, Feb. 20.—The air ship California Messenger, invented and owned by Mr. Heaton, made an ascension from Idora Park Saturday at 1:[illegible] o'clock. Mrs. Heaton was in the airship and when 1000 feet up it became unmanageable, there not being a sufficient amount of gasoline to operate the engine. The lady tried to bring it down by untieing a string, but this knotted and broke, so she made a hole in the bag with a pin and finally landed at Dwight Way and Grant street, Berkeley, three miles from where she started. In coming down the air ship was completely overturned, but Mrs. Heaton was not hurt, hav

WRECK ON ERIE RAILROAD.

One Woman Crushed to Death and Forty-Four Passengers Injured.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 21.—One young woman was killed and forty-four persons were injured, fifteen of them badly, by the derailing of a commuters' train on the Erie railroad, near Fairlawn.

The head car ran for some distance on the rock ballast before it toppled over, and followed by the other cars, toppled down a twelve-foot embankment. The dead girl, Miss Grace Matthews, was leaning out of the window to see what had happened. She was thrown out and crushed. Two of the cars landed in a big snowdrift, lessening the injuries to their occupants.

MARTIAL LAW AT TSARKOE-SELO

St. Petersburg Universities Suspend and Students Join in Demonstrations.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—Martial law has been declared at Tsarkoe-Selo, owing to numerous threatening letters being received at the palace. The chief of the secret police has ordered special precautions to prevent any outrage on the imperial family.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—With the resolution of the student body of the great University of St. Petersburg to suspend students for the remainder of the university year, almost the whole educational system of Russia has entered upon a period of stagnation, the protest of the youth of Russia against the bureaucratic system and other governmental grievances. Other universities of Russia, gymnasia and even grammar schools were already on strike, and the military in various portions of the empire have been obliged to resort to force to restrain schoolboys of tender years who are joining the general movement.

The meeting of St. Petersburg students, at which over 3000 participated, besides voting with practical unanimity to suspend studies until September 1, adopted a set of political resolutions demanding the formation of a constituent assembly and characterizing the proposed summoning of the zemskysobor as inadequate for the emergency.

The resolutions, after speaking of "the progressive demoralization of Russia under the influence of the absolute regime," declares for freedom of speech, the press, conscience, the right of association and assembly and to strike, which are described as necessary conditions for the further progress of Russia. The meeting also unanimously decided to express disapproval of the government's action in dealing with the workmen who attempted to present their petition to the emperor on January 22, and its sympathy with the victims of the soldiers.

A large faction voted in favor of stopping the war. A strong revolutionary feeling was manifested, the red flag was waved and the "Marseillaise" and other revolutionary songs were chanted. A large portrait of the emperor in the great auditorium of the university, where the meeting was held, was torn in strips. The police did not interfere.

Strong forces of police and Cossacks had been posted outside the buildings to prevent an expected street demonstration, but none occurred.

SEEKS CAUSES OF DISCONTENT.

Emperor of Russia Trys to Discover Why Workmen are Dissatisfied.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—Senator Shidlovski, president of the commission appointed by Emperor Nicholas to ascertain the causes of discontent among the working classes of St. Petersburg in a note invites the employers and workmen to elect representatives to sit on the commission.

Factory owners and contractors employing not less than 100 persons are entitled to elect five representatives of the different industries, while the workmen of the various establishments can choose electors who March 3 will elect forty-five delegates to serve on the commission.

Each establishment employing 100 to 500 persons is entitled to choose one elector, and those employing 500 to 1000 persons are entitled to an elector for each 500 workmen. Both men and women are entitled to vote, but delegates must be men who have worked at least a year in their respective factories, and must be freely elected by the workers themselves without interference on the part of the employes.

IRISH LEADER OPENS CAMPAIGN

London, Feb. 21.—John Redmond, the Irish leader, opened the Nationalist campaign in the house of commons yesterday by moving an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, declaring that "the present system of government of Ireland is opposed to the will of the Irish people," etc.

It was necessary, he said, to emphasize the fact that the Nationalists were irrevocably committed to home rule, because there was an attempt to limit the decision at the coming election and to smother the issue. The present system was ruinously extravagant and inefficient and was distrusted even by the Unionists. Ireland, he declared, "is governed by a bureaucracy more devoid of responsibility than the bureaucracy of Russia, which England is so fond of denouncing." Armed revolt would be justified if a chance of success existed.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
